Dedication

IN a school where recognition is given for efficiency and service, Marion Farnham is conspicuous. She exemplifies the steadfastness of purpose, devotion to high standards, and willingness to cooperate so characteristic of her ancestors, the early New England settlers.

Like her ancestors, she lived in New England and here received her early training. Her graduation from the high school of Malden, Massachusetts was followed by her graduation from the Massachusetts Normal Art School. Upon completion of her art course, she accepted a position as instructor of Art and English in the grade schools of Porto Rico, and later in the University of Porto Rico where she studied along with her teaching. The completion of her studies at the university carried with it not only the degree of Bachelor of Arts but also the honor of being the first graduate of that institution.

After her return to the States, she continued her studies during the summer at Columbia University and the following year at Boston University, from which institution she received her degree of Master of Arts.

Miss Farnham's training and teaching experiences have fitted her splendidly for the position she now holds. Her work with the school children of Porto Rico, her two years' supervision of the art work in the City Normal School of Bridgeport, Connecticut, and the special art courses taken at the University of Pennsylvania have given her a clear understanding of the art problems in the grades. With this equipment she came to West Chester in the fall of 1923, and this knowledge has ever been a vital factor in the organization of her courses. The success of her work has been attested by the fact that in 1929 she was made head of the art department.

Possibly extensive travel has contributed as largely to her success as any other item. The nine years spent in Porto Rico marked the beginning of her travels. Since that time one summer was spent in California, and two summers were spent on pilgrimages to the old world, under the direction of the Bureau of University travel. The first art tour featured the International Art Conference at Prague, while the second pilgrimage, better known as the Aerial Cruise, offered opportunity to visit the great art centers of Europe, Asia, and Africa.

Services to the school have by no means been limited to the class room for she has actively participated in the various phases of school life. Suggestions for decorations, for stage and pageant settings always freely given, have been followed by achievements, and from the most unpromising and inadequate materials she has produced astonishing results. In all the various activities of the school, religious, social, and educational, she has always manifested a keen interest, and in many of these, her part has been a real contribution.

It is therefore, in appreciation of such services and friendly cooperation that the Class of 1932 dedicates this Serpentine to Miss Marion Farnham.

Marion Farnham

FOREWORD

THE lining of this book depicts the phases of our life on earth. We find the burden bearer, the parasite, the leader, the beggar, the dreamer, the philosopher, and the scoffer variously portrayed. The leader is given horses for he is the patron of fine things and horses are a symbol of beauty. The bulwark of rectangular solids represent the protective atmosphere from which we come; the open country represents the new worlds we may enter. You, who are going out to conquer new worlds, carry with you this book of reminiscences, so that when you have time to relax, you may retire to within its bounds, and live once again the days you love so well. It is with this most sincere desire that the compilers of this book present these memories.

President's Message

To the Class of 1932, Greetings:

THERE are many criteria by which college men and women are judged, and not the least of these is the leadership such persons exert among others. The college graduate must not only have learned what are the qualities possessed by successful men and women, but he must also be able to put these traits into practice. Just one example! What would be the consequences for society, if the college graduate could effectively apply in his own living and as a model for others the known principles of healthful living. To be master of one's habits, to be able to shape them always according to the most advanced scientific laws and knowledge, is to be a person of vision—nay of destiny. Can a college education do this? If it can, it will have proved its place in the sun. Then, who will gainsay the worth of a college education?

My best wishes to you as directing citizens wherever your paths may lead!

Sincerely,

NORMAN W. CAMERON

History of the Senior Class

FRESHMAN Week! A hazy and confused impression of strange faces, voice tests, achievement tests, orientation talks, step singing, faculty luncheon! Freshman Week? Rather Freshman Weak! But we gradually recovered and took advantage of our chance to become acquainted with the campus and with each other before the aged and experienced upper classman appeared to make us look as "green" as we felt. And we were "green"—there is no doubt about that. Everyone however was willing to help us, and to laugh with us as well as at us; and we soon began to feel that we were an important and certainly an interested part of college life.

Freshman Week is only the first of the many happy memories of our freshman year. Football soon reigned supreme, a reign that was, indeed, a glorious one. Our team this year came through an undefeated season to be crowned champions of all the State Teachers Colleges. The freshmen then came to the front—the freshman girls won the inter-class, intra-mural basketball tournament, and the boys, not to be outdone, won the inter-class track and field meet.

And then who can forget our first Christmas play, our first White Supper, and our first Carol Service? Three years have passed since then and we have seen three plays, three White Suppers, and three Carol Services, but none can surpass the beauty of our first one.

However our memories are not all of play. Do any Music Eds, Health Eds, or Secondary Eds remember the "Carnegie Study", in which we strove to prove we knew not what. This was the particular task of the class of '32. The appearance of Miss Bull, followed later by sheaves and sheaves of papers, was an immediate signal for a chorus of sighs and groans. And then began the struggle—to answer the questions you finally had to resort to everything but "eeny, meeny, nany, mo." The usual classes, exams, and routine were followed by the Frosh Frolic, the Play Festival, and the Senior Class Play, which was given especially for the undergraduate students, and our Freshman year was over.

SERPENTINE

The opening of college in the fall found us a year older, twelve months wiser, and entirely willing to give the entering class the benefit of our accumulated wealth of knowledge and experience. As the first step in making the Freshman feel at home we reinstated Freshman regulations, something which we as a class had been denied.

This was an eventful year in athletic circles, it marked our entrance into the collegiate football world. Our 12-0 victory over Drexel will long be remembered by all West Chester followers. This year also saw the organization after three years, of a successful baseball team. Finally as an appropriate close, the track team won the District Meet of Teachers Colleges, making them State Teachers College Champions.

Our rejoicing was somewhat dampened by the fact that Coach McGovern was leaving us at the end of the college year. He had built up a fine tradition, and it was with deepest regret that we heard of his departure.

As juniors we returned in September somewhat smaller as to numbers, but increasingly buoyant as to spirit. Were we not half way toward our goal? Enthusiasm was the key word of the year. With enthusiasm many journeyed to Philadelphia to see our football team, many of whose stars were juniors, again beat Drexel. With enthusiasm we helped dedicate and initiate our new gym. Enthusiastically, we staged the Junior Prom which was by far the outstanding social event of the year. With friendliness we welcomed the Freshmen, many of whom would be members of our graduating class.

In the spring class elections were the order of the day. Much interest was manifested, competition was keen and a memorable battle was waged. We finally selected as our Senior leaders, John Wagner, our capable president, Clyde Yetter, our able vice-president, Elizabeth Stewart, our efficient secretary, and William Trimble, our much over-worked treasurer. They have guided us well through the many difficulties, and to them we owe much of the success of our Senior year.

We were now on the last lap of our journey. Our steps perhaps were lagging for we were loath to "put aside our childish things" and conduct ourselves in a manner befitting our age. Teaching and the development of that famous professional attitude were the topics one heard on all sides. And then came the most important questions of applications, interviews, and finally the thrill of signing our first contract.

Our Senior year was much saddened by the death of our friend and classmate, Alexander Bogus. It is with difficulty that we realize that he is gone. His loyalty and sincerity in work, play, and friendship won him many friends, to whom he was a character of love and respect. We profited all too little by our brief association with him, but his spirit we shall never forget.

As we remember our first Christmas Play, our first Carol Service, and our first White Supper, so shall we remember our last. And then the week-end of week-ends, the Senior week-end is unforgettable—the time, the place, and the person.

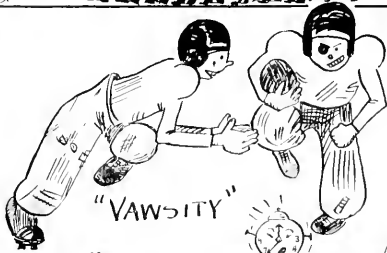

Strained faces, final exams, and finally we are in our last week of college. Dr. Cameron's Reception, Alumni Day, Baccalaureate Sunday, Class Day, the goal, Commencement, and four years, two years are over. Four years! Looking ahead it seemed such a long time; looking back, such a short time. Laughter, tears, farewells! College is now a dear memory.

History of the Junior Class

APPARENTLY it is the custom to expand upon the merits of one's class when penning a record for posterity. With justifiable pride we may write with bold strokes of the quill, of the success and ability demonstrated, by the junior class in all its undertakings.

No resume of the junior class would be complete without the mention of our Sophomore Picnic and Dance held, near the end of the year, at a camp lodge near Downingtown. The many trials and difficulties which had to be overcome added materially to the fun and frolic, and the complete success of the whole affair.

We returned in the fall eager and ready to take on our new responsibilities as juniors. With our able class leaders, Douglas Bowman, the president; Jesse Winners, the vice-president; Eleanor Pedlow, the secretary; and Walter Boyle, the treasurer, piloting the ship, we have come to the end of a most successful year.

Our Junior Prom, an annual dance, was outstanding among Junior Proms, and served to repeat the social success of our sophomore year. Socially, academically, and athletically, our class has proven itself worthy.

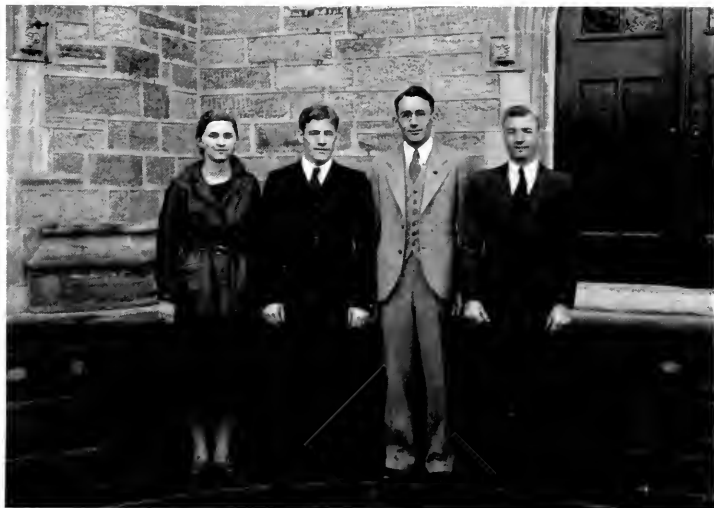

Thus far in our college career, we have met and conquered all adversities. We have proven that we are ready and willing to go forward to meet the new obligations in which we, as seniors, will be involved.

History of the Sophomore Class

HOW blithely we skipped into our second year at W. C. T. C., fresh from a conquered, summer world. Skipped, did I say? Ah, no, t'were better "advanced sedately" for we were Sophomores, now!

As becometh the mighty where those of more lowly estate are concerned, we gently but firmly took the poor bewildered Frosh in hand. Tenderly we nurtured them, shielded their immatured minds wherever possible from the tragic knowledge into which we had long been treated, of the hard, cruel facts of life.

At the very outset, the odds were with us, for what body of students could possibly fail under such leadership as Clem Widenmeyer's. Kathleen Henty our secretary, kept us well posted, while Conrad Strayer did an admirable job at the wheel of the treasury.

Versatility, along with such characteristic traits as thoroughness and leadership, might be termed our chief asset. Student Council meetings kept many of our number from—(?)—, while we need only to pick up an issue of the school paper to have our literary ability brought home forcefully. Nor did we neglect the theatrical world of concerts and plays, in which many of our classmates proved outstanding. With equal thoroughness, we took up the cudgells of athletic contests, leaving our mark in football, basketball, soccer, track and baseball.

To look back over this year of earnest deeds and high endeavor encourages looking forward to a brighter, nobler future for the Class of '34.

History of the Freshman Class

FROM the wilds of Wilkes-Barre and far distant Downingtown we fledglings, known to the common masses as Freshmen, migrated to West Chester as summer came to a close. This undiscovered country had a strange and exciting glamour for us and we were eager to take our places among the "intelligentia."

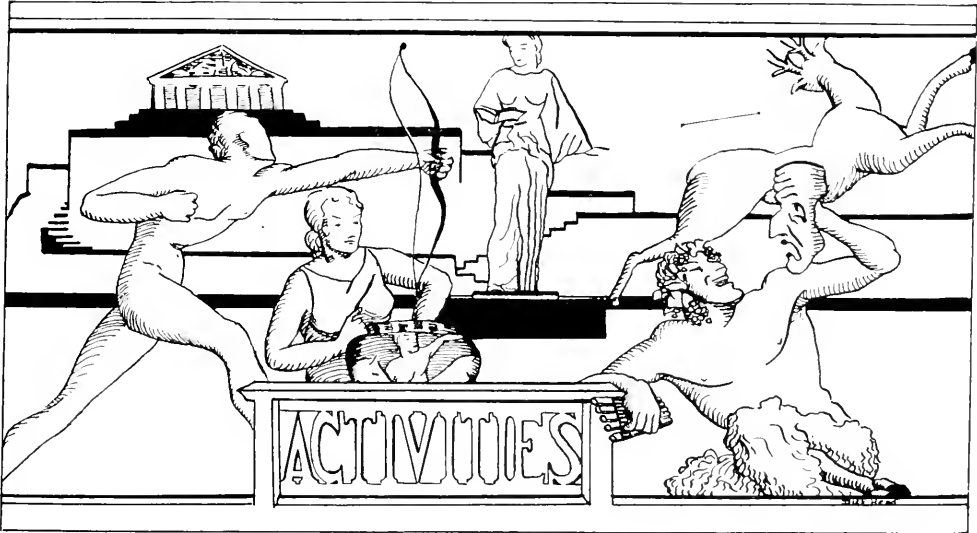

Soon freshman regulations were the order of the day and freshmen unani- mously donned the traditional green "dink" and name card. During the period of enforced servitude we learned through bitter experience just how stupid and green a freshman is when compared with his brilliant upperclassmates.

With the beginning of fall practice for outdoor sports, many freshmen allied themselves with the college football team. We freshmen also helped the cross country and soccer teams "bring home the bacon." The game with Trenton resulted in the first victory of our team. We freshmen participated in the burial of the defeated Trenton team by casting their name tags into the burning coffin.

The task of organizing such a large group of students, most of whom were acquainted with only a few of their immediate associates, was a gigantic one. However, this was accomplished very capably with the assistance of the junior class president who appointed as temporary officers John Sawyer, class chair- man and Mary Eyers, secretary. Then a nominating committee made up of students representing each group nominated one person from each group for each office. From these nominees the class elected Lawson Earl, president; Eleanor Lavery, secretary; and Maurice Wolfskill, treasurer. The freshman class owes its accomplishments to a great extent to Miss Barrer and C. Van Dyke Conover who so willingly devoted their time to the stupendous task of organization.

With the coming of spring we doff our freshman "dinks" and don the coveted colors of our predecessors for regulation days are over and we are proud to bear the name of "upperclassmen."

Woman's Student Government

THE purpose of the Women's Student Government organization is to cooperate with the faculty and the President in guiding and regulating the social relationships of all women students under the jurisdiction of the school, and to give opportunity for individual participation in governing the students.

This organization sponsors the "Big Sisters" Organization, Open Forum meetings, informal evening dances, a tea each semester, one formal dance each year, the seasonal dances and parties. Recently it inaugurated more attractive and effective bulletin boards to be found in the dormitory, which work has now been taken over by a separately organized Bulletin Board Committee. The association annually edits the Handbook.

Reorganization of the association and a revision of the constitution is being considered so that the day students may feel more completely a part of the organization.

In addition to the councilors who serve in Lower Court, Higher Court, the social committee and other minor committees, the following officers conduct the business of this large campus organization.

The Men's Student Council

THE official functioning body of the Men's Student Government is the Men's Student Council. Through this body many activities concerning the general welfare of the men students are promoted and regulated.

It is the duty of the Men's Student Council to represent student interests to the College authorities, to direct matters of student policy, and to maintain high standards of conduct among the men of the College. The Student Council also assists in all movements for betterment of student life in all its activities, and assists the Faculty in preserving order among the students.

Some of the worth-while accomplishments of the Student Council during the past year were, the establishment of student courts, and the adoption of a standard campus coat to be worn by its members.

Y. W. C. A.

As a member of the National Association, the Y. W. C. A. declares as its purpose:

We unite in the desire to realize full and creative life through a growing knowledge of God.

We determine to have a part in making this life possible for all people. In this task we seek to understand Jesus and to follow him.

Since its organization on this campus in 1891, the "Y" has grown steadily in the scope of its interests and its influence. It sponsors the Sunday morning Bible Study club, Sunday Vesper Services, Thursday evening meetings, aids a "Y" secretary in South America, sponsors the Social Service Club, holds social functions, and sends delegates to student conferences. This year it continued its discussion groups and continued its circulating library. Funds for its undertakings are raised largely by selling candy in the dormitory and by the annual Christmas Bazaar, which was particularly successful this year. The number and variety of its activities make it possible for the "Y" to interest a great number of students and afford them the opportunity for the expression of many diverse talents. "Every member an active member" is our aim.

The officers of the association are assisted in this work by a Cabinet of eight members. Each cabinet member is a chairman of a committee and has working with her girls on the campus who are interested in her specific line of endeavor.

Y. M. C. A.

THE Y. M. C. A. began its activity for the year with the second annual Freshman Camp, held at the college, September 5, 6, and 7, 1951. This camp gives the freshmen who attend an opportunity to learn many of the West Chester traditions and to become acquainted with upper classmen and residents of West Chester before the opening of the regular fall session.

The "Y" holds two meetings each month. One meeting each month is devoted to social activities; the other is for spiritual activity. In addition to the scheduled meetings the "Y" this year carried out a program of discussions. Groups were organized and discussed topics of both spiritual and social interests to men. For several of the regular meetings, good speakers were secured from outside the college.

The Y. M. C. A. Cabinet is grateful to Dr. Cameron, through whose efforts they have been able to further improve the equipment and furnishings of the "Y" Room in Wayne Hall. This room is now considered the finest and best equipped college Y. M. C. A. headquarters in Pennsylvania.

Herodotus Club

THE Herodotus Club is one of the oldest extra-curricular clubs about the campus and is ably sponsored by Dr. Charles W. Heathcote. The purpose of the club is to stimulate interest in topics of historical significance and current events. To climax a successful year of interesting and profitable activities a Verbatii Model Assembly of the League of Nations was staged by the entire club. This assembly covered several club periods and a regular League of Nations procedure was followed as is carried on in Geneva. The members of the club enjoyed a delightful social affair as a wind-up for the year.

A NUMBER of years ago, in a Southern University, there was appointed a Professor of Books, whose work was to informally talk over modern books. Out of this appointment has grown our present Book Club, the purpose of which is to read and discuss contemporary books.

Day Students' Club

THE important issue this year, which was a carry-over from last, was an attempt to secure a permanent room for the Day Students. A room where meetings could be held, and where the studious members could sit at ease and dream dreams of this present glory compared with the lack of splendor in the old locker-room. Splendid progress has been noted, and we are hoping for the best.

The big event of the Day Students' Club for the year 1931-32 was a luncheon and dance, which was held Saturday, October 24, in Recreation Hall. Needless to say it was a huge success.

The officers who very satisfactorily performed their duties were as follows:

Science Club

THE Science Club is an organization which is interested in all matters of scientific nature, and which keeps its members up-to-date on the new discourses and rapid strides being made in this field.

Members of the club as well as "outside" speakers of unusual merit contribute to make the semi-monthly meetings the most interesting and entertaining on the campus.

AT the time that this school introduced a B.S. Degree in Secondary Education, it was thought wise to have an extra-curricular organization for the benefit of students pursuing this course. Consequently, the Secondary Education Club was organized, which has as its objective the discussion of the common interests and problems of its members.

The programs of the club meeting are usually of an educational nature including reports on current school magazines. Each year a social is given by this organization as a welcome and "get-to-gether" for the incoming freshman students. On March 12 of this year the club presented the play "Honor Bright" which was greatly appreciated by the faculty and student body.

Rural Club

THE Rural Club is composed of students in the rural group and others who are interested in the rural community. It meets the first Tuesday of each month at 10:15 and the fourth Tuesday at 6:50.

The purpose of this club is to form closer bonds of friendship among the members of the rural group and to prepare for social service in the rural community.

Outstanding activities of the Rural Club during the past year were our trip to Valley Forge, October 15, for our fall outing, and the presentation of a chapel program during American Education Week. Slides were presented and talks given on the history and development of public schools.

The Rural Inter-county meet, in charge of Dr. James N. Rule, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, was held on March 17.

Plans are being made for a Rural Club day next year at which alumni members will be the guests of the Rural Club and will report on outstanding activities of their experience. Another feature of the day will be a social affair.

AS in previous years the Montgomery County Club is one of the active organizations on the campus. There are thirty-four members who are all residents of this county.

The purposes of this club are to keep flowers in the Infirmary throughout the school year, to conduct the Annual Red Cross membership campaign, and lastly for social contact.

The meetings are held the second Tuesday of every month in Recitation Hall.

York County Club

THE York County Club has the distinction of being the oldest county club on the campus. It was organized sixteen years ago.

The original purpose of the club was to give an opportunity for the students of the County to become better acquainted and to foster a West Chester "spirit" among the Alumni who attended the Teachers' Institute which is held annually in the city of York. Each year the former members of the club have a reunion at York.

The club is very active throughout the year. It assists in the management of the "property closet"; it sponsors on various occasions the sale of Sunday morning breakfasts; and it finances and takes active part in the production of the Christmas play.

Much of the success and spirit of the club is due to the loyal support and cooperation of Miss Bull who has always served as the faculty advisor.

Luzerne County Club

ALTHOUGH the Luzerne County Club is still in its infancy, it has gained wide recognition on the campus. It was organized in 1950 for the purpose of bringing together the students whose homes were in Luzerne County. The chief aim of the members of this club is to furnish the lobby with decorative plants.

February Twenty-Second—Not Just a Holiday

"WASHINGTON", a ballad play written by Percy MacKaye was produced this year by the student body. It proved to be an appropriate and successful bit of work for us to do to celebrate this birthday. The scenes in the play represented significant episodes in Washington's life—from manhood until the retirement from public life.

Various departments of the school were active in making the play the success it was. Congratulations go to members of the English, Music, Educational and Health Education Departments.

This entertainment was perhaps the first thing to be produced on such an elaborate scale here at West Chester. The pleasures, joys and memories of this production may rightly be used as stepping stones for future work of the same type.

THE Delaware County Club had as its officers for last semester:

CARDLYN EVANS
LEETA PHILLIPS
ESTELLE GARDNER.

President
Secretary

The Club held a luncheon during the Christmas season as the outstanding activity of the first semester club activity.

The Delaware County Club was organized six years ago by Miss Anne Goshen, the faculty adviser, for the purpose of securing better rooming facilities for the commuters. The Club room is located in the basement of the Main Building and is very comfortably furnished. Various social activities are held during the year to aid the girls in becoming better acquainted.

Carbon County Club

THE Carbon County Club is one newly organized this year. The club, with an enrollment of twenty-five, has made quite remarkable progress.

It is the purpose of the organization to create a more friendly spirit among the students from this county and to keep in touch with the various high schools of the county in order to interest people in coming to West Chester. The various programs in charge of different committees have been both interesting and profitable.

Library Club

THE Library Club, which was organized in 1927, has for its purpose: to acquaint students with the work of a library as a possible vocation; to show them some of the ways in which libraries can help them as teachers; to be the means of serving the college by aiding the regular librarians in carrying on the work of the library.

Members of the club are expected to give two hours a week to the work of the library, and all who faithfully fulfill this requirement are entitled to a special credit in recognition of their service.

Some of the activities carried on by club members are taking charge of the periodical room, mounting pictures for the picture file, discharging books at the circulation desk, putting the shelves in order, filing cards and mounting clippings in the school scrap book.

Little Theatre Players

THE Little Theatre Players were organized in the fall of 1928 by a small group of students who had developed an interest in dramatic production through their work in the Literary Society plays. Their purpose was to further their own knowledge of theatrical art and to do their share in developing a high standard for the dramatic production of the college.

That this high purpose has been attained was shown by the splendid production of "Berkeley Square" by Balderston.

"Children of the Moon" was the second big production of the Club.

This Club is one of the very few organizations on the campus having definite standards of proficiency that must be met before membership is granted. Membership in the Little Theatre Players is therefore, a coveted honor.

Men's Glee Club

THE season 1931-32 marks the second season of the Men's Glee Club. At the opening of the College year over seventy men responded to the call for glee club material. A higher type of material, both as to ability and voice, was found this year, being superior to that of the previous year. Three major appearances were made during the year. The first at the annual Christmas Carol Services; the second in a concert in the Phillips Memorial Auditorium in conjunction with the Varsity Club, and the third in the Inter-collegiate Glee Club contest held in the Academy of Music, Philadelphia, where our club was awarded second place.

ONE hundred girls who do not specialize in the music field comprise the membership of this organization. Rehearsals are held weekly on Wednesday evening from 6:50 to 7:45 o'clock.

The Club provides an opportunity for musical participation for those who enjoy it. It develops gracious and appreciative departments and fosters fine school spirit.

This year, besides participating in the annual Christmas Carol Service, the Club contributed to the Vesper Service on January 10, and presented the Annual Spring Concert, April 8.

Junior Choir

All of the girls of the Freshmen and Sophomore Music Education groups are members of the Junior Choir. Under the direction of Miss Gertrude Schmidt these girls present a vesper service once a year, take part in the Christmas candle light service, and present a part of the spring concert.

College Symphony Orchestra

THE College Symphony Orchestra is composed of all the talented, instrumentalists of the entire school. This group is very often called upon to supply music for special programs. Other than giving an entire concert this past year, they supplied music for the Washington Pageant.

Music Club

THE second season of the Music Club was featured by greater activities in every phase of work. More students participated and a greater interest was manifested by the student body in the very interesting programs given during the year. The programs during this season exemplified the different forms in music. One of the very outstanding programs was the one when the club had as their guests members of the Wednesday Club, a women's musical organization of Harrisburg, who presented a varied program of the highest order

The College Criterions

THE college is very proud to be represented in the musical world by such a group of talented artists as the boys who make up this dance band. It has had the honor of playing in a great number of large cities in the east as well as playing over some of the leading radio stations.

The boys who go to make up the band as they appear in the picture are:

H. RICHARD DIEHM	Saxophone
DONALD WITTER. . .	Saxophone
EDWIN ORZECHOSKI.	Guitar

PAUL KOEHLER. . .	Trumpet
HARRY METZGAR	Trumpet
SAMUEL ARENA. . .	Drums
EARL WIEDNER. . . .	Bass

H. Richard Diehm is the Director. Not being content to play the saxophone he is also very adept at the piano and trombone. He also does very fine work along the lines of arranging and composing.

John R. Wagner is the manager. He is the man who extends every effort to book the band, and it is to him that the band owes a great share of its success.

(Tune—Russian National Anthem)

West Chester, hail, all hail, noble and strong,
To thee with loyal hearts we raise our song,
Swelling to Heaven high, our praises ring,
West Chester, hail, all hail, of thee we sing.

Majesty as a crown rest on thy brow,
Pride, honor, glory, love before thee bow,
Ne'er can thy spirit die, thy walls decay,
West Chester, hail, all hail, for thee we pray.

West Chester, hail, all hail, guide of our youth,
Lead thou thy children on to light and truth,
Thee, when death summons us, others shall praise,
West Chester, hail, all hail, thru endless days.

MANAGER, RICHARDS

Football Season 1931

THIS year's football results at West Chester are probably the most disappointing we have had for several years. The "Golden Avalanche" managed to bring home only two victories and one tie score out of seven starts. At the beginning of training season, prospects looked bright, indeed. There was a goodly number of lettermen on the field, and the freshman class contributed more husky, well trained and experienced men than any other freshman class in the history of the school. But as the weeks passed, the original brightness of our prospects was considerably dulled by numerous injuries, strict eligibility rulings of the college, and the outbreak of typhoid fever. A very sad thing happened during the early part of the season. Al Bogus, one of our most dependable veteran guards, contracted typhoid and died. Bogus played for a few minutes in the first game of the season; several days later he contracted pneumonia, and was taken to his home where the pneumonia developed into typhoid. Two weeks later we heard the sad news that Al had passed on. All who knew Al were genuinely grieved to know of his death. This event was felt most keenly by the football players who knew him best and were his best friends.

However, the football schedule had to be played, and those who saw the game know that even though the scores say West Chester was beaten in four contests, Coach Conover's boys outplayed their opponents in several cases, and only fate and bad breaks kept them from coming out with the long end of the scores.

The grid campaign opened on October 10, when West Chester played Indiana State Teachers College. After a long trip of over two hundred miles, the Purple and Gold team arrived at Indiana rather tired, but anxious for the opening kick-off. The odds were against our boys, the Indiana team being more experienced because of having played two games before meeting West Chester. It was the initial game for Coach Conover's squad, and the disadvantage of a late start soon became apparent. Although our team played hard, they could not get that coordination which comes only with experience, and the Westerners' consistent gain through our line finally netted them a touchdown in the second period.

The game was featured by a great number of incompleting passes and line plunging. Sasso and Sweikert played outstanding football. In the third period the West Chester boys seemed utterly lost, and Indiana managed to push the pigskin across for another touchdown. However, as before, they failed to make the extra point, making their score 12.

In the final quarter, West Chester staged a great rally in which Sasso dashed thirty-five yards for a touchdown and Purdy ran the ball across for the extra point. However, the final whistle blew before our boys could repeat, and the sad news came home: Indiana 12 West Chester 7.

The following week, the team, probably disheartened by the loss of the first game, was unable to keep Drexel from realizing a long denied revenge. For the past two seasons the "Golden Avalanche" had ruthlessly crushed the Dragon, but this year it was a different story. Although our boys played "remarkably correct football" (quoting a Philadelphia newspaper), they felt keenly the absence of Virg Sasso from the line-up. He had been injured in practice to such an extent that it was not advisable for him to play. Captain Mazza's injury in the second period also damaged the morale of the team. Drexel's captain, Mike LaBove, was the outstanding performer of the afternoon, but even this powerful back was repulsed three times within five yards of West Chester's goal. However, the Dragons by virtue of superior interference and skillful passing, were able to push over two touchdowns which spelled victory over the Purple and Gold for the first time in football history. Johnson's skillful toe, Jimmy Doyle's headwork, and hard tackling by Yask, Quigg, Ryan and Mazza saved their Alma Mater from being disgraced by a larger score.

After suffering two defeats, our gridders decided it was time to really get into this football game in earnest, and in the next game which was with Shippensburg, they made a decidedly better showing. According to the "dope" these ancient rivals were to beat us by several touchdowns, but the West Chester boys played bang-up football and the dope was cast to the winds. Early in the third quarter Conover's proteges started a determined drive down the field, but the officials intervened and spoiled the prospects of a score when they ruled that Sasso should spend the rest of the game on the bench for supposed slugging. This decision demoralized the team, and they failed to cross the big stripe for a score. The number of first downs however, shows which team had the upper hand. West Chester made eleven first downs to Shippersburg's three.

"Sammy" Thompson, Pitzer, and Walt Boyle made many runs which kept the ball in the enemy's territory most of the time, but after an hour fierce struggling on the hot, dusty field, the score remained 0 to 0.

Trenton State Teachers College came to West Chester on Saturday, October 31, for the Purple and Gold's first home game. To date no team had scored on Trenton, but that record became only history when the West Chester eleven began pushing them around the field. Captain Mazza's outfit really clicked that day, and the backs ran wild. Sasso scored three touchdowns, and Purdy and "Bun" Johnson both had the pleasure of dashing across the big white line with the pigskin. "Al" Yask kicked a neat placement for the extra point after one touchdown, and it might be added that all the linemen did a good job in holding Trenton to four first downs while our team rang up eighteen. And so we record with pleasure—West Chester 51—Trenton 0.

Lock Haven Teachers College was the second opponent of the Purple and Gold to be met on the home lot. That whole week previous to the game was spent arousing the enthusiasm of the student body. The freshmen decorated the goal posts with the colors of both colleges, and everything was made ready for an interesting game.

During the course of the afternoon the game became exceedingly interesting for our opponents, as the well schooled upstate veterans proceeded to show our less experienced squad how football should be played. Mazza and his boys put up a game fight, but Wepsic and Hatter, running behind splendid interference, slashed our line wide open and left West Chester on the short end of a 26 to 0 score.

After a week of intensive drill, the local huskies marched onto the home field to face another first class aggregation, namely LaSalle College, coached by Tom Connelly, last year's captain of Notre Dame. The visitors started off with a series of tricky formations and flashy deception plays, but were unable to gain much ground. The West Chester team kept the ball in La Salle's territory a greater portion of the time, but the "Fighting Irish" always tightened up in time to keep the Purple and Gold from scoring. Watson, Captain Mazza, Bennett, and Sweikert were a stone wall to La Salle's offense, and it looked as if neither team would score. However, the Irishmen, got within the scoring territory by means of a penalty against West Chester in the closing minutes of the game. From the twenty yard line Connelly's boys began a determined drive which finally netted them a hard earned six points and defeated West Chester's last hope of balancing her defeats and victories. Final score—La Salle 6—West Chester 0.

Our ancient rival, Millersville, was the guest for the final campaign of the season. That afternoon the team really lived up to its nickname, "The Golden Avalanche" and gave its followers a measure of atonement for early season reverses by thoroughly trouncing Millersville 19 to 8.

Although the team did not hand in a long list of victories, Coach Conover and his boys deserve a great deal of credit for that "never-say-die" spirit which was characteristic of each game they played; they kept their heads up and kept on fighting in the face of great odds. Another fact which must be kept in mind is that this year's schedule was the toughest West Chester has ever tackled. We feel justly proud of our boys who have made it possible for West Chester to advance a step higher in the collegiate football realm.

The Basketball Season

WEST Chester has this year enjoyed one of the most successful basketball seasons in its history. Last year the Purple and Gold aggregation also had a good year, having a record of fifteen games won out of seventeen starts. This winter Coach Wescott had the task of organizing a completely new team, because all of the 1931 squad had graduated with the exception of "Dutch" Conrad, this year's captain, and Horn who was a reserve most of last year. Out of the sixty men who came out for the team this winter, the West Chester mentor finally found a dozen real basketeers who were worthy to wear the Purple and Gold in varsity competition. In this choice handful of players are included such luminaries as Lawson Earl, sensational guard, who hails from Girard College. Earl played more actual time than any other player on the varsity team this year. Although he is just a freshman, he is already a basketball favorite because of his sensational defensive playing and excellent teamwork.

Captain Conrad was the only senior in the court activities this year except "Al" Murray, the manager. "Connie" played his usual fast and tricky game at forward while he was on the squad.

"Whip" Horn blossomed forth this year as a varsity forward. Horn never played basketball at all until last year when he came out for the West Chester team. This year he was in action in almost every varsity game. He has fully justified his berth by his accurate shooting and good passing. "Shorty"

SERPENTINE

Warren, six foot-five freshman from Gettysburg, monopolized the center position. Although "Shorty" had already made a name for himself in high school basketball, he has shown great improvement under Coach Wescott's tutelage, and we believe he has the makings of one of the greatest basketball players in the East. He was high scorer for the year with a total of 110 points to his credit. "Tom" Swoyer, another of our freshman luminaries, was previously captain of the Reading high school team. "Tom" started the season as a guard, but was later moved to forward where he played just as good ball as before.

When Swoyer changed to forward, Emil Messikomer replaced him at guard. "Mess" is a West Philadelphia boy and specializes in short shots and fast floor work.

E. MESSIKOMER

"Connie" Strayer, a sophomore, who rose from last year's J.V. ranks, played a fine brand of ball this year. He is a fast dribbler and specializes in long shots.

The other players who came into the spotlight during the season are "Pres" Beaver, "Dick" Geiselman, Warren Leedy, and "Dick" Elicker.

During the first few weeks of practice, the coach had to experiment with several combinations of players in order to find the five men who could work best together. He found the best combination to be "Whip" Horn and Captain Conrad playing the forward positions; "Shorty" Warren at center; and Lawson Earland "Tom" Swoyer at the guard positions. After Conrad was declared ineligible, his place was filled alternately by Leedy and Swoyer, Emil Messikomer going in at guard. In view of the fact that these boys were nearly all "Frosh" and that West Chester had, this year, the toughest schedule it has ever played, the team can be considered outstanding. Their record is fourteen wins out of the nineteen games played.

Among the highlights of the basketball schedule were the two battles with Shippensburg teachers. The game at Shippensburg ended with West Chester in possession of the big end of the unusually low score 14 to 10. Shippensburg had its entire varsity team intact from last year and was looking forward to winning the State Teachers College Championship. But the Purple and Gold courtmen spoiled their illusion when our boys again topped the Westerners in a thrilling game at the Ehinger Gym. The score this time was 25-21.

Two games well worth mentioning are the ones played against University of Delaware and Washington College. These games were played away from home, and although West Chester lost both of them, they were both thrillers from start to finish, and we feel that our boys played good ball to hold these two colleges to scores of 26-25 and 55-55 respectively.

In the last three games of the season, our yearling basketeurs wound up their year in a blaze of glory. On February 24, La Salle College invaded our court intent on spanking the teachers. But our boys had somewhat different ideas and after forty minutes of terrific struggle, the Purple and Gold boys realized that revenge is sweet, for they carried off the lion's share of the 18 to 15 score.

contests played and expected to have no trouble with West Chester. It seems, however, that "Whip" Horn, "Shorty" Warren, "Pooj" Leedy, Lawson Earl, and Emil Messikomer do not like soldiers who shoot at baskets, so they proceeded to keep the ball in their own possession most of the time. The result was that, amid the deafening racket of fourteen hundred cheering spectators, the soldiers were taken into camp to the tune of 55 to 25.

Saturday, March 5 marked the closing of the Purple and Gold court season. On this day Coach Wescott took his three-months old fighting machine to Kutztown Teachers College. No basketball team from West Chester had ever beaten Kutztown on the dutchmen's home floor, but our freshmen did not know this tradition. They promptly began to run up a comfortable lead, and before the Berks County boys could do anything about it, the game ended with a total of 54 points beside West Chester's proud name while Kutztown could only muster 22. "Whip" Horn and "Shorty" Warren played the stellar roles in this performance, supported by the good defensive work of Swoyer, Messikomer, Earl and Strayer.

Our varsity team lost only one game to any teachers college. That one was lost to Millersville on our home floor. No other State Teachers College in Pennsylvania hashed so few defeats at the hands of other teachers this year. With this record, Captain Conrad and his teammates have claimed the mythical Pennsylvania Teachers College Championship for the year nineteen thirty-two.

"Tabby" Howells, and three dependable guards, Kurtzman, "Kenny" Friend, and Charlie Howard. "Russ" Attick, Manifold, and Bill Evans fought all winter for the tap-off position.

For the second consecutive year our JV's are a point-a-minute team. They scored a total of 569 points in fifteen games while their opponents scored 545.

We congratulate both of these teams for their brilliant success, and we hope they will do as well next year. However, neither team can look forward to an easy season, because the new schedule includes our old rivals, Drexel and St. Joseph's. Basketball relations have also been arranged with Lehigh Univ., Albright College, Washington College, and Univ. of Delaware.

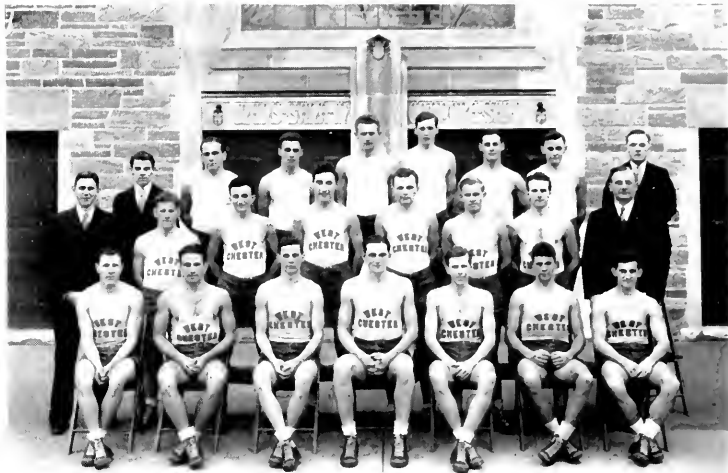

R. ELICKER

The Junior varsity team played a schedule of fifteen games, out of which they chalked up eleven victories. These boys played consistently good ball, and are very superior to the average run of college junior varsity teams. Several of the reserve boys are of varsity calibre, but there just wasn't room for all of them on the first squad.

Some of the outstanding tossers of this aggregation are the two speedy forwards, "Squirrel" Harris and

1931 Soccer Season

THE College Soccer Team, under the tutelage of Coach Earle Waters, enjoyed this year the most successful season of all of our athletic teams. The Purple and Gold booters came through their season undefeated, winning eight games, tying one, and losing none.

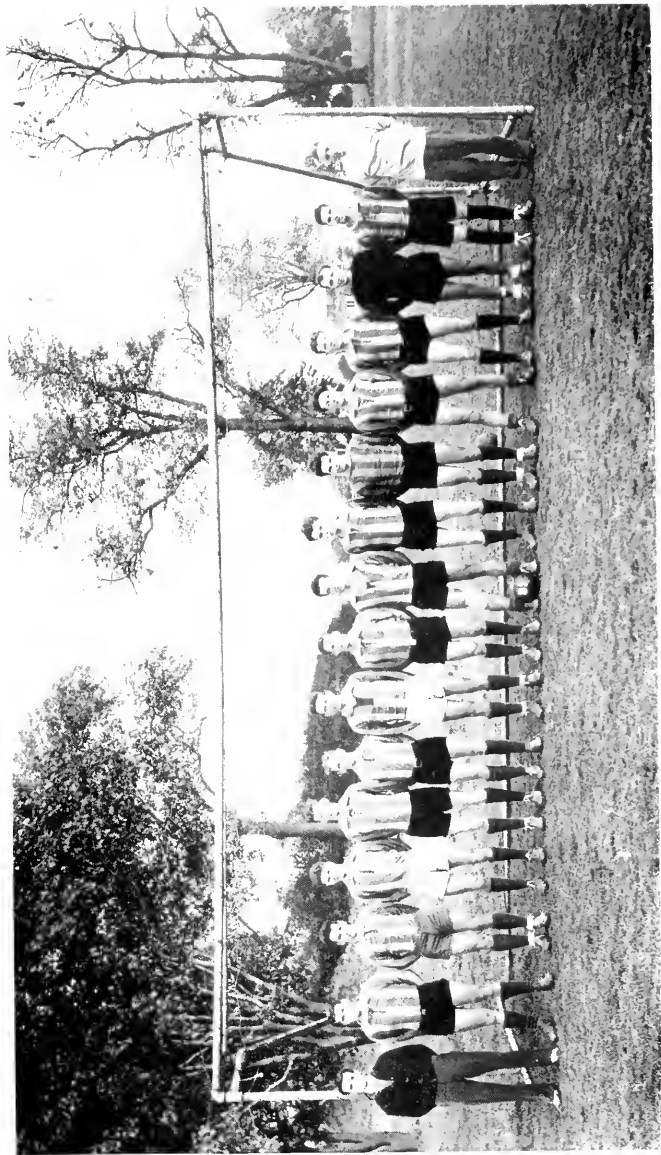

This record makes good West Chester's boast of having one of the strongest soccer aggregations in the East. Captain Camp and his boys won from teams of a powerful calibre including such well known soccer teams as University of Delaware, Franklin and Marshall College, Ursinus College, Temple University, Merion Cricket Club, Philadelphia Nomads, and Eastern Border Referees. The final count at the end of the season was: West Chester 35—Opponents 7.

Among the outstanding games of the season were Temple University, Ursinus, and Merion Cricket Club. Temple had been beating all opponents and according to the "dope" they would take West Chester into camp. However, when the Purple and Gold huskies took the field against them in Philadelphia, the Cherry and White was astonished at the clever passing and fast dribbling of the teachers, and the result was that in the first half West Chester slipped in two tallies. In the second half Temple held but was unable to score against our strong backfield. Thus their hopes for an undefeated season were upset, and West Chester annexed its six straight victory.

Ursinus College had also been cleaning up and threatened to give our boys lots of trouble. However, our boys were in fine shape when they embarked for Collegeville. This was the final battle of the fall campaign, and the soccerites were determined to have a clean record. So they went to work and outplayed the Collegeville team to the tune of 4 to 0. Horn, center forward, accounted for two of the goals, while Genner and Koomar were responsible for the other two.

Coach Waters had little difficulty in finding material to make up this winning combination, although he was handicapped by the loss of two regular forward linemen early in the season. The West Chester State team was comprised of ten veterans aided by experienced freshmen material.

Six of the most brilliant players on this year's championship team will be lost by graduation this spring. They are: Captain Marvin Camp, Wilford Styer, Raymond Slamb, Robert Morrison, Hynson Marvel and Moe Genner.

The graduation gap will be keenly felt next fall. However, the Coach is optimistic about next year's prospects. He intends to build his team around Captain-Jo Kerr and a fast, shifty forward line. The veterans who are expected to play on the line are Jack Howley, Mickey Koomar, Harold Horn, and Glen Weakley. In the backfield, Earl, Kiernan, and Messikomer will see service.

A scrappy junior varsity team won its share of games last fall and from this source Coach Waters will be able to recruit valuable material for his 1952 Varsity.

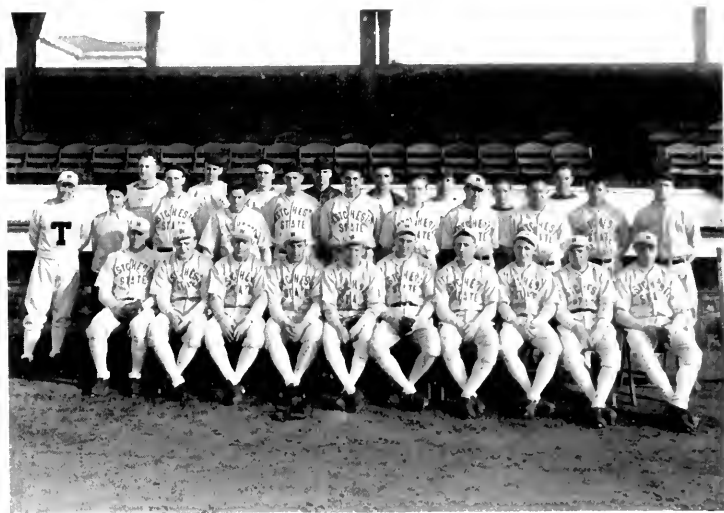

The schedule which has been arranged for next year is even heavier than this year's and our soccer players will have a big job on their hands to make as good a showing as the 1951 team made.

CAPTAIN CAMP

Baseball—1932

THE baseball squad at West Chester is getting into condition for its third year of intercollegiate competition. Last year, Coach Conover's nine turned in a fairly good record, having won four of the seven games played. This spring we are looking forward to a more successful season, although the schedule includes several bigger colleges than we have played before. Eight lettermen form a strong nucleus upon which the coach is building the 1932 team. Among the veterans are Captain Shields, Sasso, DeRisi, DeHoff, Geiselman, Jimmy Doyle, Attick, and Watson. Besides the lettermen, there are also many promising freshman ball players trying for varsity positions this spring. We congratulate Coach Conover on his fine coaching last spring and hope that he and his new assistant, Mr. Howard Yost, will succeed in turning out a very successful team this year.

THE 1932 Track squad is working out daily in preparation for a strenuous schedule. This spring the team will compete in four dual meets, a Relay Carnival at Shippensburg, the Penn Relays, and the State Teachers College Track and Field Championship Meet. The prospects for a winning team are especially good this year. Very few lettermen from last year's team were lost by graduation, and many promising freshmen are trying out for varsity berths. Among the lettermen who will be in action this spring are such stars as Captain Donia, Fenton, Charlie Myers, Clossin, Weakley, "Bun" Johnson, Horn, Conrad, Noe, Yetter, Denithorne, Mazza, and H. Brown. The outstanding performers from the freshman class are Knabb, McLaughlin, and William Harris. We are sure that the entire student body appreciate the fine coaching of Earl C. Waters who has produced so many great teams for West Chester. We wish him and the team a most successful season.

Cross Country

CROSS country running has made a great advance in the sports program this year at West Chester. Our team commanded a great deal of attention and enjoyed hearty support. They certainly deserved it as the results show. Captain Jesse Winners and his long distance boys were victorious in every meet and accomplished the unusual feat of winning two meets with perfect scores.

Coach W. A. Cox and his team opened their season by defeating Indiana State Teachers College at Indiana—score 25 to 50. Knabb, a freshman, finished first in this meet.

The second meet of the season was held at West Chester and the opponent was St. John's College of Annapolis. The Annapolis team had been expecting an easy victory, having lowered the course record of Catholic University the previous week. They were astonished when Knabb led the field home in the fast time of twenty-four minutes and forty-seven seconds over our 4.7 mile course.

In the Temple-West Chester meet, Knabb met the closest competition of the year. Wajyka, of Temple, ran neck and neck with Knabb up to within a half-mile of the finish. The score tallied 25 to 28 in West Chester's favor.

The next victim was none other than Drexel. The Purple and Gold harriers took the field in great style and cleaned up with a perfect score of 15.

The final contest of the cross country schedule was an Invitation Meet. Drexel, Haverford, LaSalle and West Chester entered the meet, and our boys closed their season in a blaze of glory by defeating the entire field and bringing home a perfect score.

Tennis—1932

MANAGER Wilmer Maurer has arranged a remarkably good tennis schedule for the coming season. This is the second year of organized tennis at West Chester and the team is making excellent progress. Mr. Westcott has replaced Mr. Andes as coach of this sport. Mr. Andes did an excellent job last year when his team won nearly ever meet.

Heavy losses in the line-up were incurred by graduation last spring, with the result that only three lettermen are available this year. They are Captain Merrill Wagner, Eddie Orzechoski, and Kurschner. The positions vacated by graduates will probably be filled by such competent players as Johnny Raymond, Springer, Jacobs, and Bob Thompson from the upper classes. Several freshman racquetceers such as Hilbert, Simons, and Earl are also bidding for positions on the team. We believe that with such fine material, management, and coaching, the tennis team is headed for a record-breaking season.

IN spite of the fact that the W. A. A. is still a very young organization, the progress the club has made during the last year is worthy of notice. The membership has increased from fifty to one hundred and seventy-five, each member taking part in at least one activity each season. This alone shows the rapid strides the club has made toward its goal.

Every woman student is eligible to membership. The sports, which are run on the seasonal basis, are adaptable to every woman student who wishes to participate. Those sports that are offered are: hockey, swimming, archery, hiking, tennis, volleyball, basketball, fencing, baseball and track.

The purpose is to make W. A. A. the sports club of the campus. While attaining that purpose W. A. A. is endeavoring to promote good fellowship among the women students in giving them lively, wholesome and worthwhile sports in which to participate. The coming years will see the achievement of that goal, all the while keeping in mind the slogan of W. A. A. "A Sport for Every Girl and Every Girl a True Sportswoman."

Hockey Tournament

Senior Health Education

THE fate of the hockey tournament this year rested in the hands of two Health Education teams. The tournament this year was shorter due to a crowded schedule. Formerly all games had been played in a "round robin" style; this year only one game was played between any two teams. Totaled scores at the end showed that the Senior and Sophomore Health Education teams had tied for the championship. Both teams had been undefeated and had tied the same number of games.

These Seniors did their best to break the tie—so did the Sophomores. An extra game was schedule but it resulted in another tie. Officials of the W. A. A. then decided that points should be awarded to both teams, and this avoided further complications.

So, here they stand, folks, taking their last bow before the final curtain. They have taken important leads in four annual performances. May their record be an incentive to underclassmen.

Sincerely, we hope the spirit they have always shown will continue to follow them in their separate fields of endeavor.

Sophomore Health Education

TO look at this group of girls you wouldn't think they could be so stubborn, would you? Frankly, they are the most aggressive group that was ever allowed in the school.

When they were only small, green, Frosh, they walked on the basketball floor and took the championship from a team that had never met with defeat. Strange to say, everyone wished them success, too. They're just that way!

Now they come out on the hockey field and try to repeat the stunt. I tried, you tried, we all tried, but they just won't be defeated. They have justly put their faith in a combination which is hard to defeat—skill and spirit.

To these girls on the threshold of their scholastic and athletic achievements we pledge our belief in their sportsmanship.

Health Education Basketball Champions

HEALTH Education Freshmen classes are getting the habit of producing winning and championship teams. The class of thirty-five is no exception unless it is the fact that they are "exceptional."

The large number of girls interested in this sport made the basketball tournament one of the most interesting activities for women. The interest shown combined with the type of playing gained as a result of effort and interest must be highly encouraging to persons sponsoring the tournament.

CHURCH LINE

Master: "What is the feminine of bachelor, Tommy?"

Tommy Matkin: "Please, sir—er—a layd-in-waiting."

Visitor: "Can you get me a date with a good girl?"

Dean: "I can get you a good date."

Ma: "Where do bad little girls go?"

She: "Most anywhere."

Watson: "A nice girl shouldn't hold a young man's hand."

Lee: "But a nice girl has to."

The four most useless jobs in the world:

1. President of the Freshman class.
2. President of the Sophomore class.
3. President of the Junior class.
4. President of the Senior class.

Weber: "Does the nice little cow give milk?"

Merrill: "Wal, not exactly—you've gotta sort of take it away from her."

Peck says, "A neckerchief is not necessarily the president of a sorority."

Don Anderson says: "The old fashioned mother who used to do all the canning, now has a daughter who leaves town to get pickled."

Fair Coed: "Prof. now that you've kissed me, what do you think of me?"

Prof.: "You'll pass!"

I think that I shall never see
 An "F" that's worth a darn to me.
 An "A" I crave whose form is pressed.

Upon the records of the blessed.
 An "F" comes easily and yet
 It isn't easy to forget
 "F's" are made by fools they say—
 But only God could make an "A."

Joe: "Shall we go outside for a little walk."

Alice: "You boys have such a funny way of saying what you mean."

Her real name is Helen, but Honey is her neck name.

IN THE BARGAIN LIST

Jimmie Doyle returned from school with his report card for his mother's inspection. "But, dear", she said, "what's the trouble? Why have you such poor grades this month?"

"There's no trouble, mom", was the quick reply. "You know yourself things are always marked down after the holidays."

W. Chester Collegian: "What's wrong with these eggs?"

W. waitress: "Don't ask me, I only laid the table."

IN THE STICKS BEHIND THE STICKS

Slamb: "I suppose that your home town is one of those where every one goes down to meet the train."

Spragg: "What train?"

Won't you sometimes think of me?
